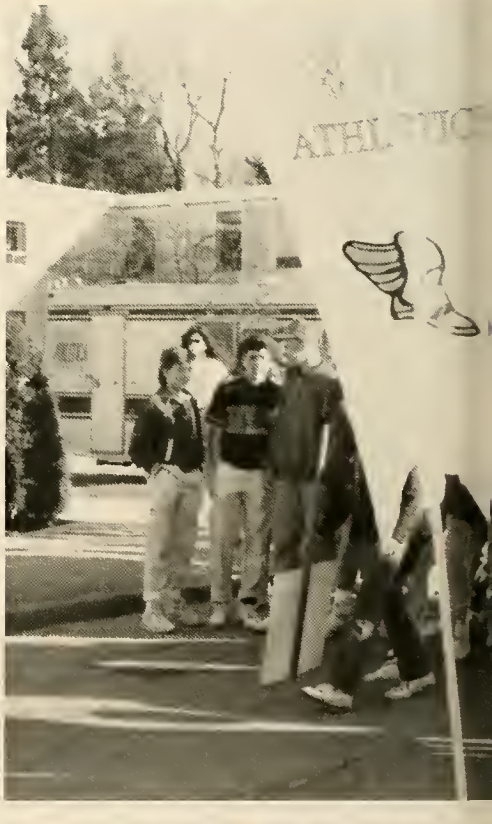
Standing Together

The Town of Southbridge brought about a major shock to the Southbridge School system. Extra Curricular activities and a decrease in faculty could have been the result in our 1990/91 school year. Our student body gathered together on April 12, 1990, in the SHS gym to try to put a stop to our town's drastic budget cuts. On April 23, 1990, concerned parents, faculty and students marched together to the Town Hall, led by the SHS band. Concerned students spoke their opinions and the SHS Show Choir displayed school spirit on the steps of the Town Hall. Our teachers and activities continue to be in circulation at SHS. Everyone's combined efforts proved we are able to accomplish any goal - 'TOGETHER IN '91".

Supporters of the Prop 2 1/2 override rally on the Town Hall steps.

TOP: Marchers meet at SHS for the march downtown.
BOTTOM: An incredible crowd at the Town Hall.

An in-school rally shows support for the override.

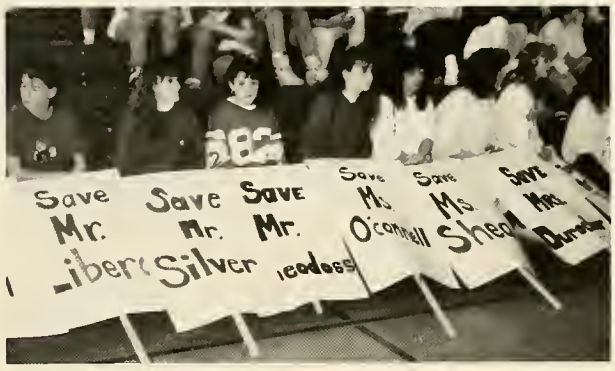


Mrs. Allard and Ms. Gimas 'steal' flags from the golf course.

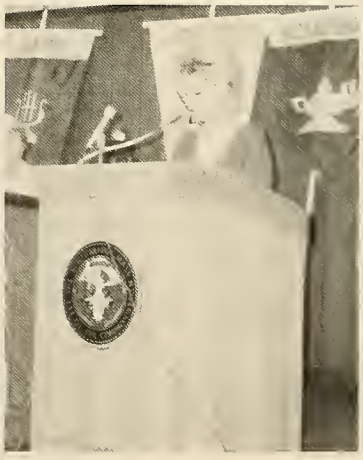
Tyler Steele speaks on behalf of activities.

Show Choir performs on the Town Hall steps and waves frantically at the crowd.

Bottom: Students hold signs of teachers threatened by the cuts.

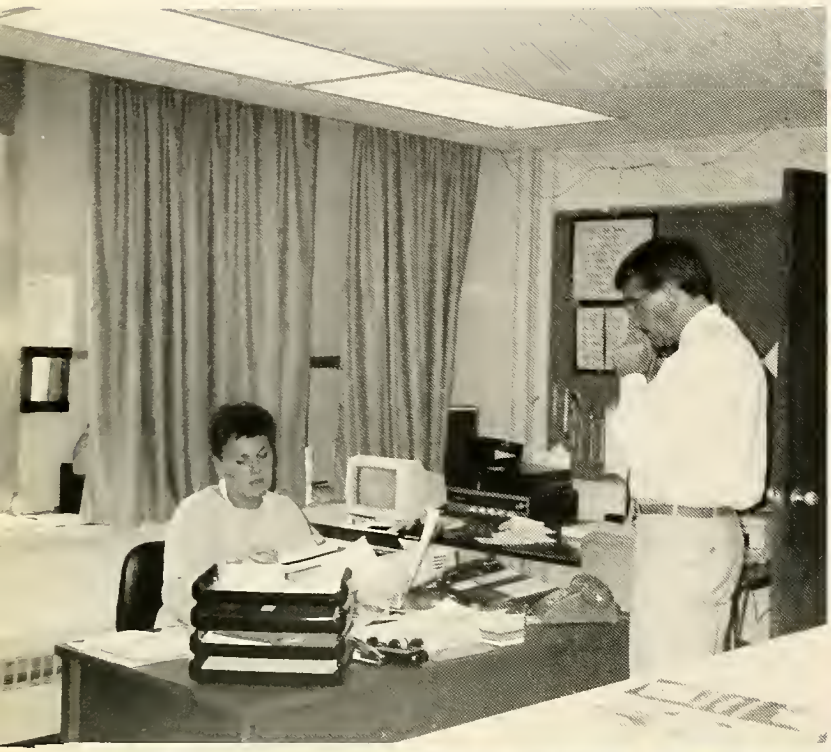


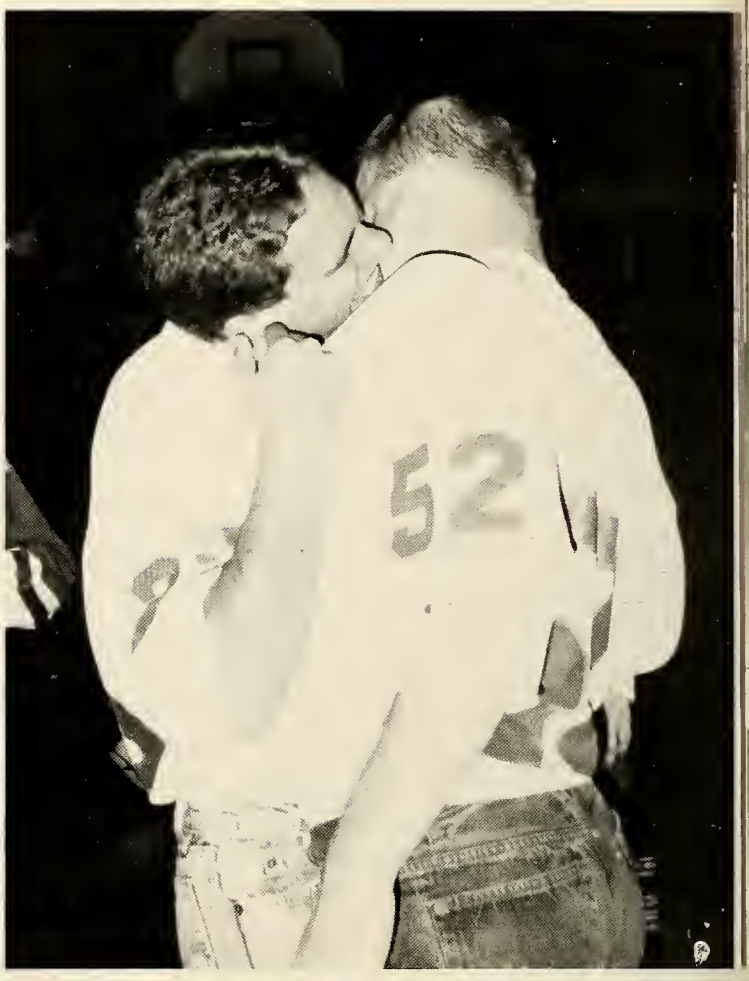
Becca Bachand and Karen Gates are much taller than others. Below: Majorette Shelly Paul and band lead the March.

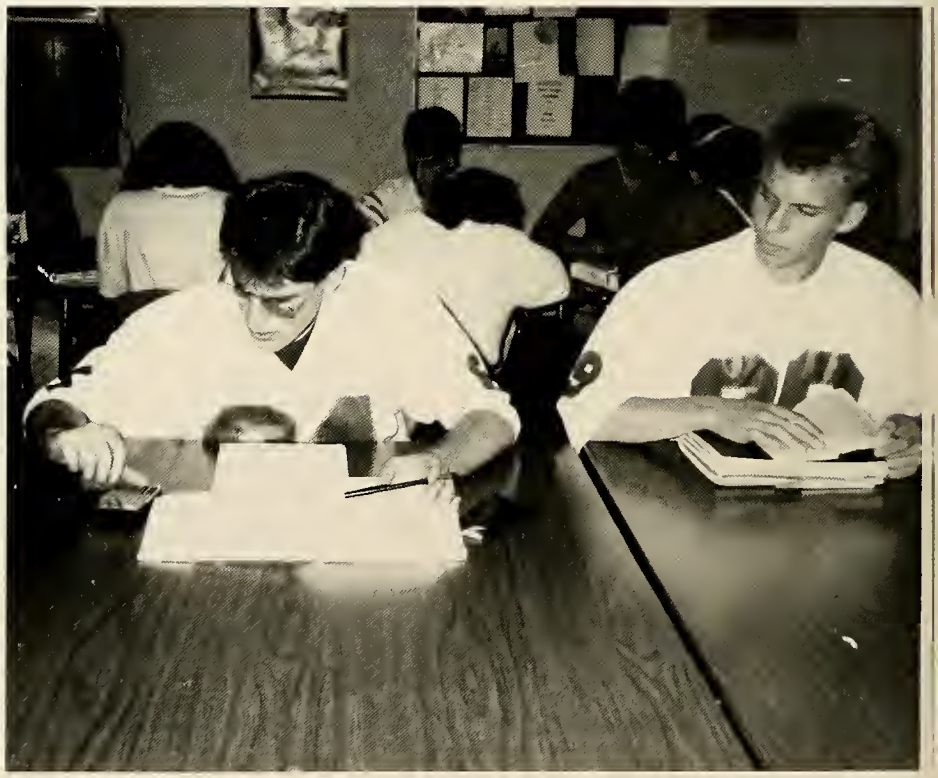


Sara Laliberte discusses the importance of art.

Meeting for plans to fight the cuts were held.







Top: Mrs. Varin explains the bell schedule to Mr. Bialy.

Right: Scott Fowble and Jason Sawyer catch up on some homework.

Welcome to the 1990-91 Musket, "TOGETHER IN '91', where we, the students of Southbridge High School, have joined together in spirit and understanding to make our dreams become realities.

Working Together

"Is there anybody there?" asks Mrs. Varin.

Artist Bill Anderson and Sean Carragher work together on the Derek Sanderson poster.

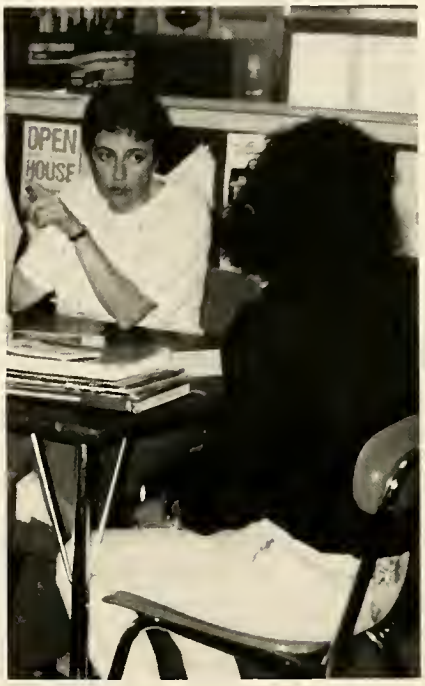
Right: Togetherness is evident in the class of '91.

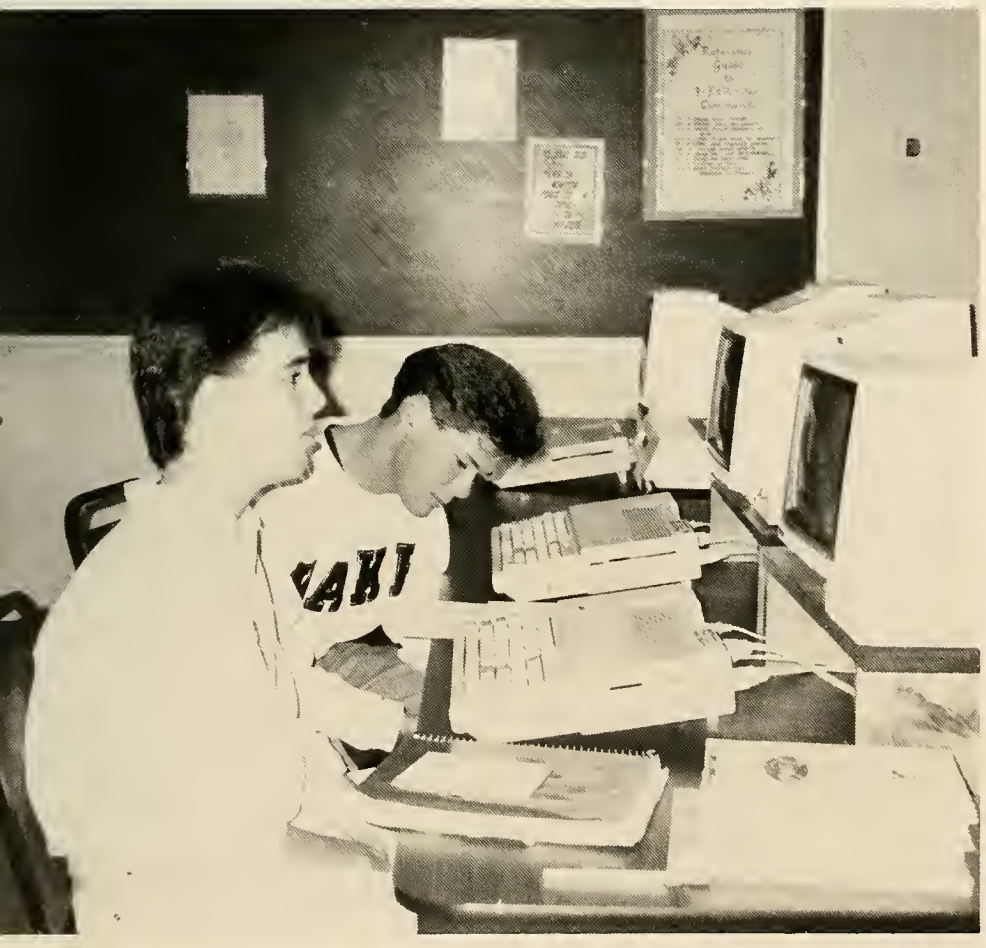
Our Dreams

Work is the last thing on the minds of Courtnie Bruce, Heather Brown and Stacy Prosco.

Miss O'Connell advises a student on the college application process.



Orlando Rodriguez shows us how fun it can be to work on class posters.



Derek Dunn and Aaron Berthiaume use the computer writing lab to write and store their essays.

Become Realities

ABC's And 1 2 3's

The bell rings, and they're off! Whether it's "A" "B" or "C" lunch students race from their classrooms to the cafeteria. Lunch period is looked forward to all day. For some it's a time to relax and talk with friends. For others, it's a time to study for an end of the day test and for most it's a time to "chow down". Menu varies daily and depending on preference, students will purchase one, two and sometimes three lunches. Danielle LaFleche says, "I don't care if I'm a girl and I'm supposed to eat only one lunch. I love getting doubles!"

Above right: "You said a mouthful!". Chris Hefner is caught by the camera as he stuffs his mouth at lunch.
Above: After cleanup is done, it's all too soon time to return to classes. The lunch ladies serve up the day's delicacies.

Right: Damarys Fernandez pauses before she eats so she won't talk with her mouth full. Jeremy Rines eats for two.

Jason Kamizirides and Brian Dunleavy grab a window seat at lunch.

Vanessa Jacques always has time for a quick hello before sitting down to lunch.

Liz Hebert demonstrates the common practice of saving a seat for a friend still in line.
Left: These people know their A's & B's, eating lunch provides the energy needed to make it through the day.

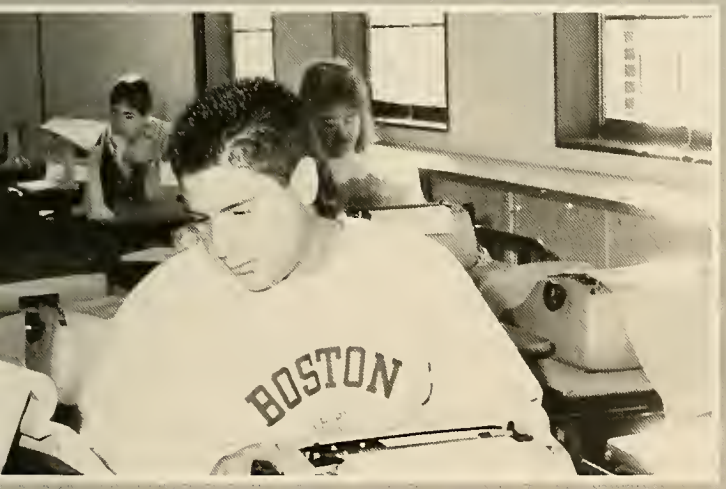
Teachers And Students Work Together

To Make The Grade

Putting all the fun and good times aside, academics are the life force of Southbridge High. Throughout their four years here, students take a variety of courses from freshman English to senior College Biology to prepare them for the world awaiting them beyond high school.

Top: Mr. Soldani stares in bewilderment at Jonathan Elza's attempt at a computer graphic.
Above: Steven Cardenas likes using the mouse on the computer so he won't have "to type everything out".

Sue Pontbriand adjusts her seating position to get a better look out the window.
Below: Michelle Laporte and Kenny Plouffe work together to get the assignment done faster.

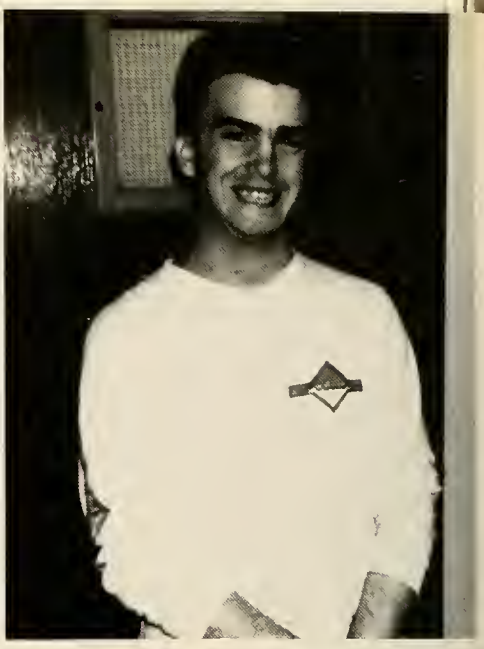


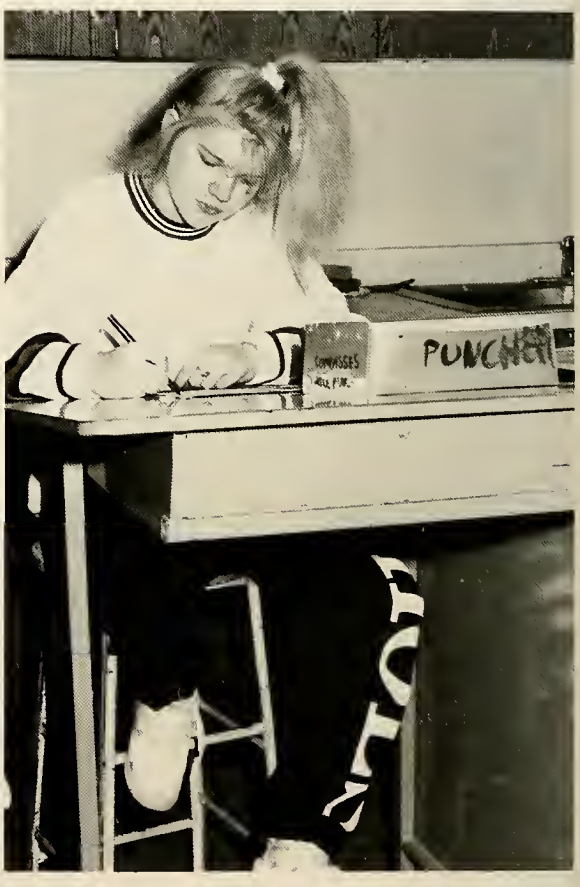
Top: Mr. Yacavace tells students about his personal life - a funny matter.
Middle: "Does anyone know what's going on?" ask students in Mr. Flannery's chemistry class.
Bottom: Todd Tiberii races to keep up with the pace of the class.

Top: Sean Lavoie finds studying on top of a desk is both easier and more uplifting.
Middle: Mrs. Allard assists Maryann Beck with a problem.
Bottom: "I don't know Maritza. Are you sure these are the right margins?" asks Mrs. Sullivan.

what is everybody Doing?

Throughout the halls of Southbridge High at any given moment on any given day you can find students doing a variety of things. Some students work on assignments while others take time to catch up on the latest with friends while still others use the time to simply relax.





top: Kevin Guyette doesn't know what he's doing but it looks like he's having fun doing it. Above: Erika Weberg works on a drawing for her portfolio.

Finely ONE

For the pick-me-up needed to make t through the day, Taster's Choice is he brand most teachers prefer.

Working or eating? These students take time out to munch on some munchies.

What's so funny? Tammy Caron will never tell.

Matt LaFleche catches up on computer assignments.

The Dynamic Duo-Kristen Lesniewski and Sara Laliberte dance off to their next class.

The camera never lies Jeff-Trifone caught in the act.

HALLOWEEN HORROR

Going crazy as "KISS" are Derek Dunn, Tim Pope, Sean Carragher and Billy Anderson.

Look out Vanessa! It's Dracula and Frankenstein!

Glen Misiaszek and Danny Diorio dress up as Scare crow and Mrs. King.

Jenn Bernard asks "where's the rest of my nerd-herd?"

AT SHS

The skipper has finally made it off Gilligan's Island and into Mr. Thomas' college Biology class.

Kelly Kokoszka takes a moment out of her witching to swap spells with Mrs. Sullivan.

The gruesome threesome.

Rob Pierangeli, Brian Dunleavy, Jeff Carlson demonstrate the new Pioneer boxer shorts.

Danielle LaFleche heads down the hall with her eccentric friends Amelia Leblanc and Nicole Bastien.

A Very Special Christmas

Every year the Student Council host's an annual Christmas party in the school gymnasium. The party is filled with fun contests, spirit raising competitions between classes, and tasteful food and music. The party is concluded with a visit from the big man himself-Santa.

"Fowl Ball!" cries Stacy Vello as she catches a football thrown across the gym.

Stacy Anger awaits the arrival of Santa in earnest.

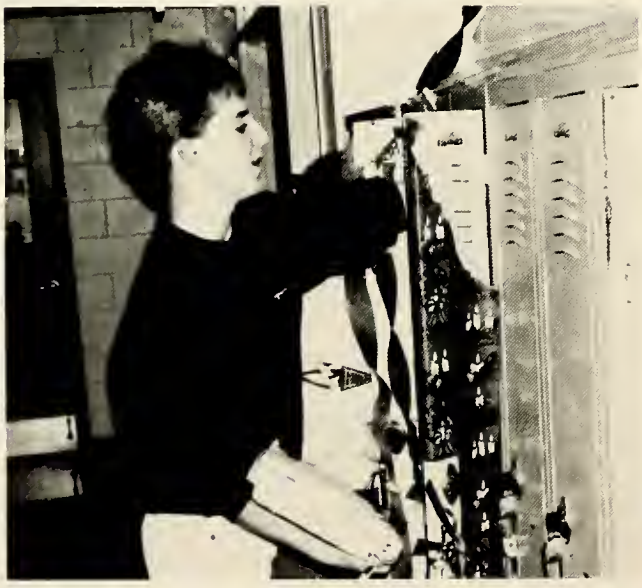
Glen Latour knows enough to behave with Santa watching overhead.

Middle: For freshmen Jessie Derrick, Amy Dall, Nicole Kopas, Lisa Staffieri and Angela Sinni, the Christmas festivities are a new and exciting change. Above: Santa eyes Lori Livenois in bewilderment after she knocked over the Christmas tree.

lockers

A Student's Sacred Space

A student's locker serves many purposes; storage for books, clothes and other materials, as well as a place to "hang out" between classes. For most, lockers reflect the owner's personality, having been decorated with numerous amounts of paraphernalia and memorabilia. Our lockers become not only a storage compartment but our sacred space.



Above: Patty Caez knows a locker is a great place for shoving her books in after class. Tim Aucoin's locker is a place for decoration as well as storage.

The fact that lockers are a great place to hang out is common knowledge for Danielle LaFleche and Amelia LeBlanc.

Strike A Pose, There's Nothing To It!

At SHS anything is possible-Throughout our fun filled halls students have a certain rhythm and way of presenting themselves. The students do more than walk down the hall, they move. Each pose is a different as the many different personalities. One word that is in the vocab of every SHS student is style.

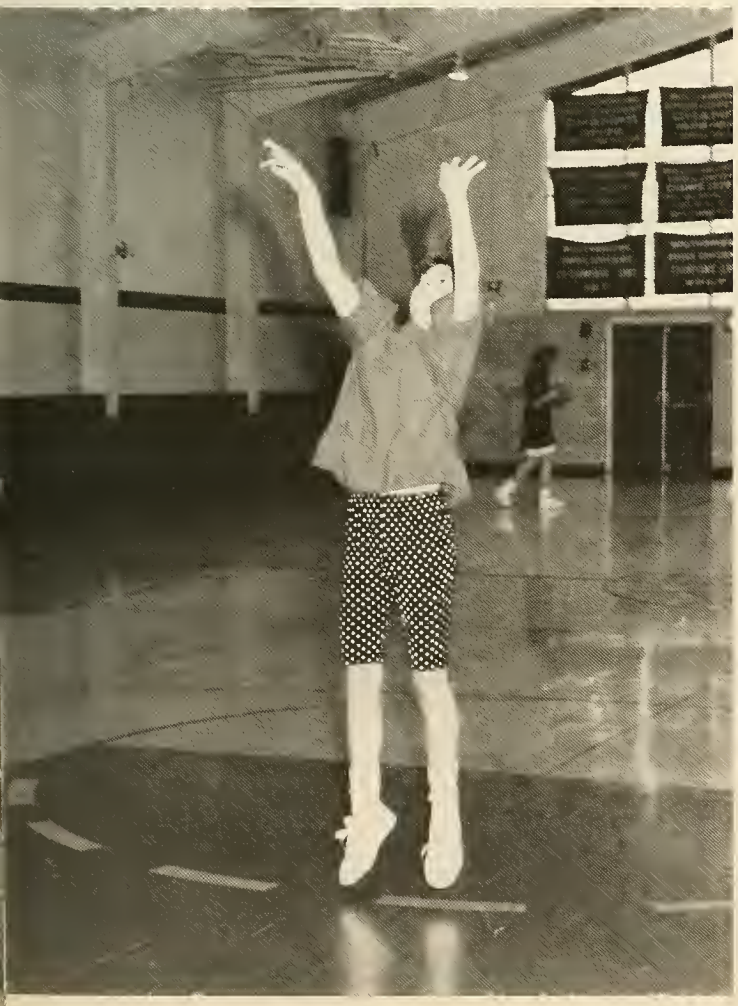
Striking up more than conversation, Angela Benoit gives Kelly Geers a friendly hug

Joelle Ferron definitely knows the technique of creative posing.

More than art, some students use the school furniture to suit their style and comfort.

Does Mr. Thomas really believe he can stop Jen Graf's dancing with a wave to the camera?

Former SHS student Abigail Kendrick and current student Erica Plouffe do a little shopping to stay "in style".



Posing or snoozing? Patty Caez finds time to seem interested in her homework before school begins.

While posing can be fun and creative, this student knows sometimes "you might as well jump."

Pioneers Destroy Indians 22-6

Despite the cold weather and a 20 pound turkey waiting at home, for most, the Thanksgiving Day game is tradition. Pioneer fans give up their Lazy-boys and settle for a cold, wooden bench and a hot chocolate, keeping the tradition alive - Pioneers scalping the Indians. Continuing the seasons success, the team worked together to defeat the Indians in a smashing 22-6 victory. The game was followed by a Victory Dance where the MVP (Jason Sawyer) and next year's tri-captains (Eric Chamberlin, Seth Hmielowski, and Jason Sawyer) were announced.

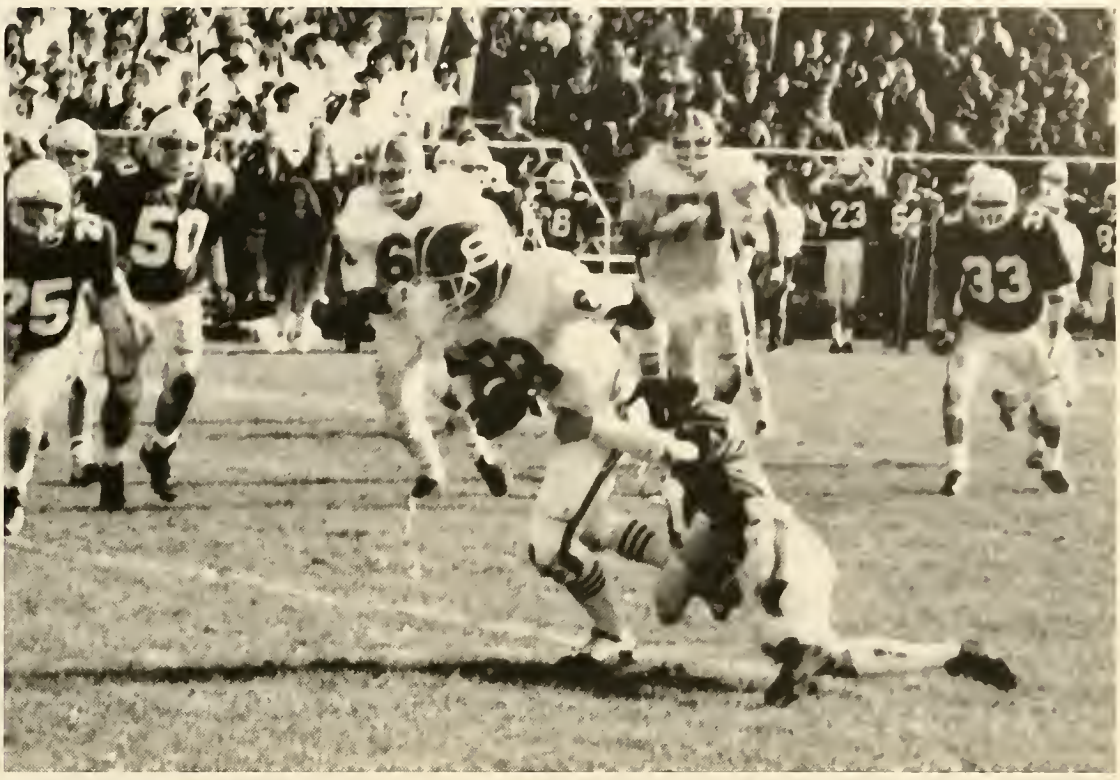
The Pioneers give Bartlett a new meaning to the word "pig pile".

The team works together toward a victory.

Matt Leduc prepares to receive the ball and score a touchdown.

David George prepares to destroy anything in his path while Jason Sawyer heads up the offense.

Ron Aucoin struggles for the ball with an opposing Indian.



Jose Ribiero kicks the ball over the goal post to score an extra point.

The Pioneers intercept and take control of the ball.

Together, anything can be achieved.

Yelling For Victory

One word that best describes SHS students is SPIRIT. The Thanksgiving Day rally clearly showed the spirit our school possesses. Finally, the day came for all classes to show how much spirit they had with dynamic posters, interesting skits and screams filled with spirit. The Freshmen gave us their version of "They Shrunk the Pioneers". The Sophomores did their best with the Flintstones meet the Jetsons. The Juniors dominated for the second year with the help of Peter Pioneer. The Seniors went out with a bang with "Alice in Websterland". In closing, as long as we have spirit, we can accomplish anything TOGETHER IN '91.
